

Dear Day School Family,

With the rapidly changing situation regarding COVID-19 in our community and updates that many schools in our area are starting school after Labor Day, we have made the difficult decision to also plan our first day of school to be September 8. This decision was made based on the continued concern for the health and safety of our children and staff.

The Day School teachers and staff continue to finalize our plans for beginning the school year with in-person learning. Physical, in-person learning is recognized by governmental agencies, doctors and educators as being the most appropriate format for little children. Therefore, it will always be our goal to do in-person teaching whenever possible. The two weeks we are delaying school will become a credit for your October payment. We will not offer any virtual teaching during this time.

The Teacher Meet and Greet will be moved to September 3. We will send out more information about signing up for a specific, individual-family time in a few weeks.

Introducing Erin Rossetti, RN

I am pleased to introduce our new school nurse – Mrs. Erin Rossetti!

Erin is from Florida, where she attended Florida State University to study Psychology and Nursing. While attending FSU, she worked in educational research, teaching reading to kindergarten through second grade students. After earning her nursing degree, she worked as a NICU nurse in Tallahassee. Her husband's career brought her family to Dallas, and she continued her NICU nursing career at Children's Medical Center. She joined the PCBC Day School family last year as a young toddler teacher and is moving into the school nurse position for this next school year, helping to maintain our health and safety procedures. She will join the network of private school nurses who meet weekly and communicate with the Dallas County Health Department on a regular basis. We are blessed to have Erin on our staff!

We hope you and your family are enjoying some summer fun and some form of vacation is on your calendar. We look forward to a great school year ahead!

Please contact me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,
Nickie Bartlett | PCBC Day School Director
